PARIS BOYS' CASES CONTINUED INDEFINITELY

By agreement of attorneys representing the defendants and the Commonwealth, the examining trial of John Clay and Robert Burnett, young Paris men, technically charged with manslaughter, was continued indefinitely by Judge E. H. Doak in Cohaty Court at Lexington yesterday.

The continuance was granted because of the fact that William Jennings, who was injured in the collision between the car driven by Messrs. Clay and Burnett and the motorcycle driven by Victor Adams was killed in the accident, which is the basis for the manslaughter charge.

Colonel John R. Allen represented Messrs. Clay and Burnett and appeared for them when the case was called by Judge Doak.

MARCH WEATHER IN APRIL

April has apparently absorbed a large part of the weather properly belonging to March. High winds and heavy rains have played havoc with the farmers' work, retarding spring very greatly. Stoner creek has been out of its banks twice from recent heavy rains. Bourbon county farmers report a great deal of damage from high waters and wind storms. In some localities fencing was washed away, water gaps destroyed, and tobacco beds suffered where they were planted on hillsides. There was no hail in the county. Heavy winds prevailed yesterday.

PARIS HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Beginning to-day, April 18, at 2:30 p. m., a series of lectures on the subject of Vocational Guidance will be given at the Paris High School. The first of these lectures will be by Capt. Bethurum, U. S. A., on the subject of "Advantages and Disadvantages Offered by the Army and Navy."

Capt. Bethurum is a graduate of West Point. He is at present the Commandant at Kentucky University. On Wednesday afternoon Prof. E. S. Crouse, of Kentucky University, will give the second lecture of the series, subject, "Mining and Metallurgical Engineering." This lecture will also be given at 2:30.

It is the plan to have two lectures each week. All these lectures will be open to the public free of charge. To-night at 8 p. m., the last meeting of the Lyceum Course will be given at the High School. This number will be "The Temple Singers."

COMMERCIAL CLUB ACTIVITIES

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Paris Commercial Club, held in the offices of the Peoples-Deposit Bank, the Community Chest plan was given an emphatic endorsement. After discussion of the pros and cons of the matter the directors recommended the plan as the most sensible method of taking care of the different organizations which are dependent upon popular subscription for survival and continuance of activities, rather than separate drives or campaigns throughout the year.

The directors recommended that the drive for the Community Chest should be made during the late spring or early fall, and that chairmen from all the civic organizations which are dependent upon popular subscriptions for their support should meet at an early date and plan a budget of their probable yearly expenses in order that the united drive may be made with some definite amount as a goal.

A committee composed of Catesby Spears, chairman; Dr. Chas. G. Daugherty, A. B. Hancock, James M. Caldwell, Samuel Clay, W. D. McIntyre and J. W. Jones was appointed to confer with the Fiscal Court and other local authorities in regard to employing a full-time Health Officer for Bourbon county.

R. H. Keltner, of the Hockensbury System, conferred with the directors concerning a new hotel project for Paris. No action was taken at that time on the matter.

At the request of the Commercial club three delegates from the board of directors of the Bourbon County Woman's Club attended the meeting and discussed the co-operative advertising campaign recently promoted by a Lexington paper and participated in by the Bourbon County Woman's Club. The Commercial Club directors decided that the participation of the Woman's Club in the advertising campaign would be detrimental to the business interests of Paris merchants, and asked that the delegates inform their organization. At a subsequent meeting of the Executive Board of the Woman's Club voted to abide by the decision of the Commercial Club and withdraw from the campaign.

Wet ground Saturday caused postponement of the game scheduled between the Paris Pirates and the North Middletown High School team. The game will be played at a later date. Capt. Arthur Hancock, Jr., is determined to take the scalps of the North Middletown warriors, even if he has to engage some National League players to turn the trick.

All the pastors of Paris churches and the citizens of Paris are invited and expected to attend this meeting, which has for its object renewing of interest in the raising of a fund for relief of the suffering Armenians.

DEATHS

Life Is But A Brief Span, A Debt That All Must Pay

WILLIAMS

Paris friends and relatives received news Saturday of the death in Phoenix, Arizona, of Wright McD. Williams, aged forty-five, formerly of Cynthiana. Mr. Williams was a first cousin of Attorney John J. Williams, and a brother of Lawrence Williams, formerly of Cynthiana, now residing in Arizona, and well-known in Paris.

Mr. Williams was a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Williams, of Cynthiana, and is survived by his mother, familiarly known in Kentucky as Mrs. Lizzie Williams, who now resides in Williams, Arizona, a short distance from Phoenix. Mr. Williams had been connected with the Phoenix, (Ariz.) Gazette, and the El Paso, (Tex.), Times, in an editorial capacity for many years.

Mrs. Christman is survived by her husband, August Christman, one son, Arthur Christman, and one daughter, Miss Georgia Christman, all of Paris; two sisters, Mrs. Phillip Christman, of Harrodsburg, and Mrs. John D. Marshall, of Louisville; three half brothers, George Straub, of Fort Snelling, Minn.; Fred Straub, of Louisville; Christopher Straub, of Louisville.

The funeral was held at the Methodist church, at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, with services conducted by Rev. C. H. Greer. The interment followed in the Paris Cemetery. The pall-bearers were: Dr. Wm. Kenney, Willis Jacoby, George Jacoby, Jas. Galloway, Roy Pepper and Dr. S. P. Mohney.

HAGERMAN

The Rev. Barton Campbell Hagerman, former President of Hamilton College, and founder of Campbell-Hagerman College, died Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at his home in Los Angeles, Cal.

The Rev. Mr. Hagerman was born and reared in Anderson county. He attended the old Kentucky University and later Bethany College, W. Va. He married Miss Manie Campbell, a granddaughter of Alexander Campbell, leader of the Disciples of Christ.

For many years he was a teacher in Bethany College and was acting president of that institution at the time he was called to be president of Hamilton College, which position he held for five years.

In 1903 he established Campbell-Hagerman College on Second street, Lexington. In that year he built Hagerman Hall and later Duff Chapel, both four-story buildings. The college was closed after seven years.

In addition to his educational activities in Kentucky, the Rev. Mr. Hagerman at one time was associated with Charles P. Williamson in the Madison Institute, a girls' school, at Richmond, Va.

ASKS $10,000 FOR FOOT AMPUTATION

Dr. Chas. G. Daugherty, one of the most prominent physicians of Paris, has been made defendant in two suits filed in the office of Circuit Clerk Wm. H. Webb, by Isaac D. Morrison, a minor, through his father, Charles Morrison, and by Charles Morrison, acting for his own interests. Mr. Morrison and son are represented by Attorney Charles N. Jewett, of Cynthiana.

In the petition of Isaac D. Morrison, he states that in September, at which time he was aged fourteen years and eleven months, he received slight injuries in the yards of the Louisville & Ashville railroad company, in Paris, when a wheel on a freight car ran over his foot, injuring two or three toes. He alleges that he was taken by unknown parties to the Massie Memorial Hospital, in Paris, and there was, without his knowledge, consent or approval, and without authorization by him, placed under an anesthetic, and his foot amputated by the physician. As a result of the amputation, he claims he was made a cripple for life, and asks judgment in the sum of $10,000, with costs and all proper relief to which he may be entitled.

The other action, brought by the young man's father, sets out the same conditions, and alleges that, due to the operation, he was deprived of the services of his son, and that his power and ability to earn money before he arrives at the age of twenty-one, has become permanently impaired and destroyed, and that he will be a cripple for life. He asks judgment in the sum of $1,902.

Nobody ever has to be admonished to swat the mosquito.

BASE BALL

All officials of the various clubs composing the Blue Grass League, will be guests of President Russell, at the opening game in Maysville, between Maysville and Winchester, on Thursday, April 20, which marks the opening of the 1922 season. Business matters pertaining to the League will come up for discussion.

Thos. M. Russell, president of the Bluegrass Base Ball League, believes that organized base ball in Kentucky this year is in better shape than ever before. His league, he says, has been fully organized, and the outlook is for a very successful season.

Six clubs, representing Lexington, Winchester, Mt. Sterling, Cynthiana, Paris and Maysville, make up the circuit. The schedule for the clubs calls for fifty games for each team, to be played on Thursdays and Sundays. The season is to be opened on Thursday, April 20 and close on October 12.

In discussing the make up for the different teams, President Russell said: "Mt. Sterling has selected Charley Ellis, an old Bluegrass favorite, as its manager. The organization is run by the business men of the city with William Jay as president. About twenty men are being tried out."

"Lexington, with Jimmie Park, the old St. Louis pitcher and Jessie Morton, as business manager, have, from all reports, gotten together a great team and the city behind them."

"Paris is better organized than at any other time in my experience in base ball. They have a good manager in B. F. Goodman, and their president, George Speakes, is one of the real boys who loves base ball."

"Winchester has as its president J. S. Baskett and Vallandigham as manager. Winchester had considerable trouble in obtaining permission to play Sunday ball, but the majority of the citizens were finally won over and Sunday games will be played."

"Cynthiana is the real wonder in the league. The club has such men as Clarence LeBus, of tobacco fame, and S. Reese back of it. A new park is being built for the Cynthiana team."

"Maysville has about twenty-five men on trial. Claude Watkins is the President and E. L. Willett, secretary of this club. N. S. Goskins is the manager. A new park, which contains about twenty acres is being built."

The newly-organized Paris Mammoth team of Blue Grass League met defeat at the League Park, Sunday afternoon in an exhibition game with the Covington Athletic team, by the score of 4 to 3. The playing of the locals demonstrated the fact that they will be strong contenders in the League race at the end of the season. The game was theirs until the ninth inning, when a home run, with a runner on first base gave the visitors a lead of one run, which the locals were unable to overcome. The game was witnessed by a large crowd. The batteries were: For Covington: Rock and Racky; for Paris: McCord and Maxey.

RELIGIOUS

A Resume of Events in Religious Circles For Present and Future

At the pre-Easter prayer services held by the ladies of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Georgetown Christian church, Rev. Frank M. Tindler, pastor of the North Middletown Christian church, gave an interesting talk on the subject of "Prayer." The subject was developed by Dr. Ira Boswell and Rev. Mr. Tindler.

The lecture and entertainment scheduled for Sunday at the Little Rock Christian church was postponed until a later date, owing to unavoidable circumstances, which made it necessary.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Brice Steele are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a little son at their home near Paris, being their second child.

In Covington, to Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Camery, former residents of Paris, a fine daughter; weight six pounds. The little one has been named Mary Frances Camery.

At Tampa, Florida, to Mr. and Mrs. James H. Letton, formerly of Paris, a son, named William Reynolds Letton. Mr. Reynolds is a native of Bourbon county, and a brother of Reynolds Letton, of near Millersburg.

At Millersburg, Saturday, a handsome ten-pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Turner, of Paris. Mrs. Turner was before her marriage Miss Josephine Leer, of Millersburg.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

The recent meeting of the Paris City Council developed into a wrangling match between several members over the question of wages to be paid the city employees.

Councilman Santen, member of the Finance Committee, moved the adoption of a twenty cents an hour scale for common laborers. After considerable discussion the matter was referred to the Grievance Committee.

Councilman George Doyle demanded of City Superintendent Fred Fister where he received his authority to discharge a number of city employees and to appoint others in their place. Mr. Fister stated in reply that it was necessary to have experienced men to handle blasting material at the city rock quarry. Councilman Santen asked him if an experienced man was in charge of the blasting a few days ago when a rock from the quarry crashed through the side of a dwelling on Houston avenue, several hundred yards away.

Councilman George Doyle gave notice that unless the pay roll was considerably cut he would resign from both the Finance and Improvement Committees. Councilman Santen said he could see no use for other committees, as matters pertaining to them were referred to the Grievance Committee. Councilman Doyle said there would be no money to meet the salary rolls, as they had already reached the limit; that the banks would loan no more for extra expenses, and that the City Treasurer had already asked that the salary list be held up.

The new license ordinance was adopted as a whole, after a few minor changes. The ordinance calling for the improvement of Main street, between Fourteenth and Twentieth, was adopted. Property owners are to pay one-third, the Kentucky Traction and Terminal Company one-third, and the city of Paris one-third of the cost. The ordinance is published in this issue of THE NEWS.

The street is to be improved with permanent street material, as provided for in the ordinance. Work will begin as soon as the contract is let by members of the Improvement Committee.

Lenine and Trotzky are said by a doctor to have strong constitutions. But he may have judged by the odor.

FLA-AY B-A-W-L-L

Christmas and the Fourth of July have no tighter grip upon the affections of the male portion of the population of the United States than the day which opens up the annual baseball season.

Business will be carried as usual, probably, in many places, but there will be occasional, perhaps, frequent, mental lapses from the strict attention to sordid details connected with the mere accumulation of money.

Between April and October, when the race is closely contested, the American man and boy and an occasional girl and woman lays one more stick upon the existing load to be carried through the hot term. But it is one of those added burdens which give pleasure even in the frequent pains of defeat.

Between April and October there is a patriotic obligation to make diligent inquiry that is not to be denied concerning each day's scores. The duty of keeping in mind without error the standing of the teams is one that may not be neglected. Some details of work or business may be temporarily sidetracked, but never that of memorizing the standing of the clubs.

And who is there to say that Americans' zealous devotion to this one great national sport does not make them the better for it? It provides relaxation and diversion that makes existence less hum-drum for countless thousands.

EDITORIAL FLINGS

"This talk of blue blood," says a crusty old Paris bachelor, "makes me tired, sometimes. Most of the blue blood effect I've seen in Paris seems to have been achieved by a preparation of liquid chalk and glycerine, and the smearing of lips and eyebrows with blue grease paint."

Trouble a coming
But 'twill soon be past;
We keep on hoping
There'll be rest at last
Rest from the labor
And stormy blast
All sing together
We'll go fishing at last!

In a book by a popular author of society novels the only married woman who kissed the hero without invitation, hesitation or agitation, without shame, waste of time or waste of words, was "from the South." Well, you see, they have to go somewhere when they're declassé in the South.

It happened at The Paris Grand the other night. A heavy rain was falling forcing inside the lobby the usual bunch of fellows who make that their resting place, as the crowds are filling in. There was a line of waiting patrons in front of the box office with Mrs. Jack Owsley patiently and skillfully waiting on them in turn. Suddenly a young fellow "batted in" out of turn and approaching the rail spoke hurriedly "I want a twenty-cent ticket downstairs." "You can't go there for twenty cents," said Mrs. Owsley. "Well then where can I go for twenty cents." But before Mrs. Owsley could inform him each of the fifteen men in line told him where he could go, as far as they were concerned.

SECOND NOTICES SHOULD NOT BE NECESSARY

Some of our subscribers neglect notifying us of their change of address until too late to make the necessary changes on the mailing list. In order to keep the list and card index straight, we would ask as a special favor that they will notify us promptly when they move from one place to another. Give both the old and new address when notifying us.

Many subscribers also neglect renewing their subscriptions at the proper time, and often we are forced to discontinue their papers because of this. Then they say: "Why didn't you send me a statement and I would have sent you a check." No doubt this is true. Statements are sent out in the regular order of business twice a year, so there is no good reason why others notices should be necessary.

Prompt attention to both these matters will save trouble to all concerned all around.

Earth's Glacial Period.

Geologists base their statements concerning the existence of the glacial period mainly upon evidence in the form of boulder clay and various other forms of deposits. The first scientific references to glacial action were suggested by the Alpine regions and are to be found in the works of Charpentier and Agassiz. Man did not exist prior and during the early part of the glacial period. The first evidence of his existence is to be found in the later glacial period.

VICTIMS OF THE SPOILS SYSTEM

Here are the records of some of the officials of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, who were summarily dismissed without warning, without charges and without a hearing by President Harding's executive order, and replaced by "Harding Republicans."

Jas. R. Wilmeth, Director of Bureau of Engraving and Printing; in government service 27 years; chief clerk in Treasury Department under former Secretary of the Treasury Franklin McVeagh, a Republican.

George U. Rose, chief of the engraving division; Republican; 39 years in service; would soon have retired on a pension; dismissal notice served on him at night by special messenger.

James M. Fisher, Assistant Director of Bureau of Engraving and Printing; in government service 29 years.

John J. Deviny, superintendent in charge of night force; in civil service 22 years; refused offer during the war of $7,500 a year in private employment to remain in government service at $3,500.

E. H. Ashworth, custodian of dies, rolls and plates; in bureau twenty-eight and a half years; commended by investigating committee composed of Republicans on the afternoon of the day he was dismissed.

Ralph H. Chappell, in charge of machinery; ex-navy officer; veteran of Spanish-American War.

H. I. Wilson, overseas veteran of World War; left $3,000 a year place in charge of a bureau to serve in the late war; resumed employment after the war.

James A. Chamberlain, foreman of garage; ex-service man.

EDUCATION THEN AND NOW

Just as certain habits remain even after they are no longer necessary or useful, so are ideas and convictions often entertained when they are no longer founded in fact. A man who spends much time out of doors will often when lighting a match in the house, shield the tiny flame from the wind from which he has been accustomed to shield it out-of-doors.

Ideas acquired in early youth, valid though they may have been at the time, will often be carried over to a period of time and into conditions in which, as a little reflection would show, they have no validity whatever.

The much talked of three R's are a case in point. There were once the foundation of all elementary education. For the vast majority there was nothing more to education than the three R's. They began with them, and ended with them. They served fully the purposes educators of that day had in mind.

So did the stage coach and the two-masted schooner. In an age which did not know fast trains and automobiles and airplanes these earlier means of travel were quite adequate, just as in an earlier stage of education the three R's were not so inadequate.

The question of what is good for the school child must be considered not only from the point of view of the past; much will be lost if a great deal of thought is not given to his present needs.

LOUISVILLE MAN HEAD STATE DENTAL ASSOCIATION

Dr. E. C. Hume, of Louisville, was elected president of the Kentucky Dental Association at the annual convention of that body in Louisville. Dr. N. B. Smith, of Frankfort, was selected vice-president, and Dr. William Randall, of Louisville, was made secretary. Members of the State Board are: Dr. W. F. Walz, of Lexington, O. B. Powell, of Paducah, and H. B. Patrick, of Paint Lick.

Others elected were: Board of Censors: Doctors J. H. Gray, of Greenville, Homer Meredith, of Leitchfield, Julian Dismukes, of Paducah.

Board of Trustees: Doctors W. D. Bridwell, of Providence, C. H. Tandy, of Hopkinsville, J. E. Faulkner, of Barbourville.

COMMISSIONER GIVES BOURBON SMALL FARM ACREAGE

The farm acreage in Kentucky last year was 21,612,772. out of an approximate acreage of 25,715,840, according to W. C. Hanna, commissioner of agriculture, who has compiled statistics showing the number of farms and farm acreage by counties.

Four of the best agricultural counties of the State, Bourbon, Clark, Fayette and Shelby, have small acreage. Of the four Shelby leads, having 238,625 acres in farm land operated by 1,464 owners or managers and 1,245 tenants. Fayette county has an acreage of 160,342 in farm lands operated by 905 owners or managers and 1,073 tenants.

Last year Bourbon county had a total acreage of 179,209 and lark county 154,568 in farms operated. The farmers of the former were operated by 2,298 owners or managers and 1,002 tenants, and the latter by 953 owners or managers and 703 tenants.

A foresighted man is one who doesn't have to get up and hunt for another quilt when the temperature drops during the night.

DEMOCRATIC LANDSLIDE FELT IN FIVE MORE STATES

Recent municipal elections in Rhode Island, Maryland, Connecticut, West Virginia and Missouri gave renewed evidence that this is a Democratic year.

Burreville, R. I., elected an entire Democratic ticket by pluralities of 500, overturning 1920 Republican pluralities of 800.

Hagerstown, Md., elected a Democratic mayor by 360 majority, overturning a Republican affiliated majority of 700; also two councilmen.

Hartford, Conn., went Democratic by a record vote, reversing a Republican victory of two years ago. The Democratic candidate for Mayor received 3,575 majority, and the Democratic candidate for Controller defeated a Republican who has held the office for 28 years. The Board of Assessors is Democratic for the first time in twenty years.

Benwood, W. Va., answered the question, "What's in a name?" by electing James Cox, the Democratic candidate for Mayor over a Republican who had held the office for four terms.

Old Missouri showed 'em when Kansas City elected Frank Cromwell mayor (Dem.), by about 12,000 majority and the balance of the Democratic ticket by majorities ranging from 1,000 up; Jefferson City followed suit with majorities averaging 500, electing five aldermen, giving the new board seven Democrats and three Republicans. Five other Missouri cities elected Democratic mayors—Macon, Butler, Fulton, Carthage and Sedalia.

The significance of these elections is found in the fact that they repeat the results of other municipal elections in every section of the country; they indicate—as well as anything can indicate the trend away from the reactionary methods of the leadership of the Republican party and that Republicans who are more interested in the welfare of their country than they are in partnership are joining hands with the Democrats in an effort to restore Democratic economy and intelligence in government.

Democratic municipal victories in a Congressional year have always been the true signs of Democratic national victory in the fall, say the Democratic statisticians.

"SPRING PLOWING" YEAR

Arrival of the season for spring plowing and the repairing of fences has made the "dirt farmers" in Congress somewhat restive. Much hilarity was caused in the house the other day when Representative Clarke, of New York, asked for leave of absence "on account of business and planning for spring plowing." Representative Clarke is a member of the agricultural committee, and, while he had to be a lawyer, of course, to be appointed on it, it seems he is a farmer of a kind, too.

But what about the "dirt farmers" who constitute the "agricultural bloc" in the Senate? Will they be asking for leave of absence to see that the tractors are working effectively and economically and that the spring dehorning of cattle is not held up?

These statesmen of agrarian proclivities probably could be spared from the legislative halls for a few days if they are able to make a tangible contribution to the general welfare of agriculture. Every good farmer knows that it pays to take them by the forelock and do the plowing in good time.

Having obtained about everything that seems probable from the present Congress in the way of legislation to help the agricultural interests, the "dirt farmers" in the Senate and House should not be denied the leave of absence which would enable them to see the practical workings of this legislation back on the farm.

NATURE TELLS YOU

As Many Paris Readers Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are weak, Nature tells you about it. The urine is nature's index. Infrequent or too frequent passage.

Other disorders suggest kidney ills.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for disordered kidneys. Ask your neighbor! Paris people testify to their worth.

D. L. Honican, 411 Main street, Paris, says: "A few months ago my kidneys almost put me past going. They were weak and I was annoyed by the frequent action of my kidneys. The secretions were highly colored and passed frequently. My back ached most all the time. I was restless at night and couldn't sleep. My kidneys were in such bad shape that I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Oberdorfer's Drug Store and it didn't take them long to fix me up in good shape. I have never since been bothered and I can't recommend Doan's Kidney Pills any too highly."

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING PRETTY

Many a girl's fortune is determined by her face. A skin which is fresh, smooth and alluring with the radiance of health, predicts a happy future, because this is the greatest of all womanly charms.

Every girl can have a beautiful, attractive skin if she will only learn to give it proper care.

The constant application of cold creams, lotions, powder and rouge tend to make the skin sluggish and inactive. Dirt accumulates and blackheads and other blemishes appear.

Thorough cleansing once a day prevents such a condition and keeps the complexion fresh and smooth. Cold Cream is beneficial when applied to a clean skin and rouge and powder are harmless beautifiers—but start fresh every day on a clean foundation. Keep your skin active and it will be clear, fresh, youthful and attractive.

Soap to be thorough, need not be harsh. The mildest toilet soap made is the most thorough of all cleansers. You will know after you have once tried Palmolive.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first class groceries and drug stores.

NOTED WRITER SAYS PROHIBITION IS BANK FAILURE

The world is suffering from katzenjammer, declared E. Philip Oppenheim, shortly before sailing back to England recently. The popular author of about 70 novels, including "The Great Impersonation" and "The Mysterious Mr. Sabin," also expressed annoyance at American prohibition.

"The American cocktail used to be the passport to gaiety," he said. "You have banished it. I have gathered prohibition means not prohibition, but annoyance. I used to like your American bars, and now I find that part of the hotel, once full of friendly, smiling groups, a waste of tables, and they tell me none come to dance any more."

"The kill-joy spirit exists in England, too, but I think we are slowly getting back to normal appreciation of the pleasant things of life. Suppression of all man's natural instincts is like sitting on the safety valve of the race."

"In London there was a strong effort to prevent us from drinking wine with our suppers. There was also a movement to forbid cabaret performances — perfectly decent shows, you understand. And finally there was a concerted attempt to keep us from playing cards in our own clubs, to outlaw the game of poker. The police were to invade the clubs and make arrests of poker players—oh, I assure you, the police got very grandmotherly, indeed."

"Now, I have never played poker in my life, but I took great pleasure in leading the opponents of this proposed reform and I may say we won our point. Also, we now have wine with our suppers."

"We were all keyed up during the war. On the one hand we gave everything we had; on the other, we were hysterically gay. Every one's motto was, 'One more good time before we die.' Now, it's perfectly natural, this general discomfort, gloom, bad nerves, grouching, unhappy memories."

"Then, too, the non-thinking people believed that when we had won the war we should all be so much better off. As a matter of fact, we're all worse off. We are being taxed to death. If I get a thousand pounds for a story, I give half up in taxes. It's no wonder some of us don't feel like giving little praises."

ALL RIGHT, UNCLE HIRAM!

The Flemingsburg Times-Democrat, under the heading, "Correct Your Record, Neighbor," publishes the following regarding a basketball item furnished us by the Paris High School's sporting editor:

"We find in THE BOURBON NEWS of April 7 a statement in regard to the games played by the Paris girls' basketball team, and in the paragraph printed below there is an error which we hope the editor will correct:

"Jan. 28—Flemingsburg (here) 9-7 (Paris)."

"The fact is that the game was a tie, 7-7, at the close of the regular period of play, and an agreement was made to play an extra five minutes, and Paris made one field goal, making the final score 9-7 in favor of Paris."

PARIS SECOND IN BIBLE STUDY CONTEST

Cynthiana won first place in her class for the boys' Statewide Bible study contest, conducted by the State Y. M. C. A. covering seven weeks, and in the next class three schools tied for honors, with every boy in the school enrolled, every boy present every session of the class, every boy taking—and passing—the examination. These three schools were Stanton, Greenup and Vanceburg, but, by a regulation of the contest which provides that in a case of a tie in record the average of the examining grade would determine the winner, Stanton is the winner of the silver cup.

According to the report of the State office, Paris ran a very close second to Cynthiana in that class, and Danville had third place. Honorable mention is given to Lagrange and Clark County High School in this class.

E. V. Donaldson, State Boys' Work Secretary, reports that in 72 high schools of the State 2,400 boys were enrolled in the contest. Some schools dropped out of the contest because of sickness and the closing of schools, but more than 1,000 boys took the examinations, at the close, and a large majority of them passed it.

STATE EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING D. A. R.

The State Executive Board of Daughters of the American Revolution met Saturday in all-day session at the Phoenix Hotel, in Lexington, with Mrs. J. M. Arnold, State Regent, of Covington, presiding. The Mountain School committee, which was also to have met, postponed its assembly on account of the inability of Miss Rebecca Averill, of Frankfort, chairman, being unable to be present.

After considerable discussion it was decided that the D. A. R. would not conduct a mountain school at Hueysville after May 20, but no other site was decided upon at the meeting. The county school at that place is being used through the generosity of the D. A. R. of Kentucky.

Much interest is being manifested over the national meeting to be held in Washington this month, and which will be attended by delegations from all the Kentucky Chapters, including Paris.

Mrs. Charlton Alexander, Miss Elizabeth Grimes and Mrs. C. M. Clay, of Paris, attended the meeting as representatives from Jemima Johnson Chapter.

COST OF HANDLING BURLEY TO-BACCO IN BOURBON

According to information from the Paris office of the Burley tobacco growers association the cost of handling the 8,113,870 pounds of tobacco which passed through the local warehouse floors this season was 17.26 cents a hundred pounds. This was a saving in this county of $50,907.42 over the old method of marketing where a change of 80 cents per hundred was made. The members of the association in this county are highly elated over the economical management of the business of the association.

The present outlook seems to tend toward a larger crop of tobacco this coming year than during the past.

MODES AND MORALS

No doubt Eve's first costume was criticized as immodest by her husband, for ever since the dress of woman has been under masculine displeasure. It seems strange with the incessant change in feminine dress that it does not by accident sometime strike a mode which should meet with the approval of those for whom women are generally believed to aim to please in their dress.

Even the skirt, which has been of every length and shortness possible in the last few years, never seems to be exactly right, and so it is kept in perpetual motion. How ceaseless are these changes is illustrated by the statement of a popular motion picture actress, who declares that in her journeys over this country and Europe it has kept her mind busy shortening or lengthening her skirts to keep pace with the styles of the times and of the places visited.

Then there is woman's bathing suit, which every summer furnishes fresh food for moralizing. There are indications that the skirt to the bathing suit will soon be abolished altogether, as the one-piece bathing suit marches steadily from the West to the East.

The day may not be so far distant when the skirt will be a thing of the past and when there will even be laws enacted against the wearing of it as a source of useless controversy and tending to divert the minds of both men and women from more important subjects.

The following resolutions of respect to the memory of Miss Edna Gardner were adopted by the Sunday School class of the Paris Methodist church:

Whereas, We shall miss the inspiration of her presence and interest in our Sunday School, therefore, Be it Resolved, That we record our grief at her going, but submit with humble hearts to the will of our Heavenly Father, the All Wise and All Loving.

Of course, you are, or you would not be a 100 per cent. American. Nobody likes unfair competition. The party who is running the red bus on our lines between Paris, North Middletown and Mt. All this after his admission that the undersigned had been very good to him while working for us, and also admitted that there was really no room on this line for two busses. We feel that, since after two other parties tried this line and gave it up, and since we stuck to the job and lost several hundred dollars at the beginning in building up this line, you, good people, after once understanding what kind of a dirty deal we are up against, will gladly stick to us and use only the "Olive Drab" colored bus. The following notes regarding Paris traveling salesmen were published in "The Sample Case" page of Sunday's Lexington Herald:

"Noah Rose, of the Paris Milling Company, says business is better."
"J. T. Mattox, of Paris, Ky., selling Beech-Nut Products, says business is improving."

"This will be good news to the boys who travel in cars and go through Paris: The Paris City Council has decided at last to repair the mile of street that enters Paris as it is now almost impassable."

NEWS OF THE COURTS

E. A. Fisher, of Bourbon county, was arraigned before County Judge George Batterton, in the County Court, Saturday, on a charge of keeping his son, Ellis Fisher, out of school. Judge Batterton stated that he would not hold Fisher to the grand jury, but would continue the costs on the books, and if any further complaint was made by the County Attendance Officer, Mrs. Robert Bell, he would report the case.

Ernest Small, colored, was in court on lunatic inquiring proceedings. After a thorough examination he was found to be of unsound mind, and was sent to the Eastern Kentucky Hospital for the Insane, at Lexington. Small was obsessed with the idea that he was bothered by radiograph messages day and night. He claimed to be receiving radio messages all the time from distant cities, and that they had upset his health and ruined his nervous system. Court officials termed his affliction "radio-dementia."

EDITOR WATTERSON'S ESTATE
VALUED AT $228,500.

Henry Watterson, former editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, left an estate of $228,500, mostly in government securities, according to the terms of his will probated in the Jefferson County Court at Louisville, Tuesday. The income from $200,000 is left to Mrs. Watterson during her lifetime and then descends to Mr. Watterson's son, daughter and grandson. The remainder of the estate is disposed of in special bequests.

Mr. Watterson's library, curios, pictures and other personal belongings are left to the Louisville public library, to which he bequeathed $5,000 for the construction of a place to keep them, to be known as "the Henry Watterson alcove."

The will was dated June 12, 1921, and was in the testator's handwriting.

POULTRY, EGGS AND BUTTER MARKETS

Bad roads, due to rainy weather, have held back considerably the receipts of eggs, and as a consequence, the market has shown some advance. The general opinion seems to be that production is very heavy and prospects are favorable for heavy receipts in the next few weeks, which will possibly bring about lower values, as the present level seems to be higher than the consuming trade cares to pay.

Bad weather conditions have resulted in a smaller quantity of butterfat being marketed, and as the demand for butter is very heavy at the present time, the market has shown some advance. The present rains, however, should mean better pastures and heavier production within the next few weeks, resulting in lower prices.

There has been a good demand in the past few weeks for live poultry for the Jewish holidays, but with these now past, the general tendency will be for lower values.

HARVEY CONTINUES TO SHRINK

Ambassador Geo. Harvey seems to grow smaller as time goes by. Senator John Sharp Williams (Dem. Miss.) referred to his relative importance in national affairs in a recent speech on the Four-Power Treaty. Senator Williams had mentioned some great names in English history, when Senator Ashurst (Dem., Ariz.) facetiously remarked: "I hope the Senator will not forget George Harvey."

"I decline," said Senator Williams, "to be diverted from the great, sublime heights to which my oratory has just a moment ago risen to the contemplation of George Harvey. Notwithstanding the prevailing influence which the Senator from Arizona is entitled to have with me, I decline to have my sublimity of thought brought down to George Harvey. I would not mind it if one of the pages were mentioned by name, but I do not want to fool with George Harvey while I am in earnest about a great national question."

Do you suppose Germany is getting even with her late enemies by depreciating the value of her currency until it isn't worth anything?

STARS MEASURED

New Method Being Employed by Astronomers at Harvard College Observatory.

BASED ON STUDY OF SPECTRUM

Vast Collection of Photographs Now Being Used and Exact Figures No Longer Depend on Old System.

Cambridge, Mass.—The distance from the earth of hundreds of stars are now being measured for the first time at Harvard College Observatory by recently developed methods based upon a study of the spectrum. It has been found that the huge collection of photographs of star spectra, assembled at Harvard during the past generation and numbering over 300,000 plates, can be put to a new use in determining the distance of stars, and the work of measurement is going ahead rapidly.

Many of the vast number of stars whose distances are still unknown are the bright, comparatively nearby southern stars, because nearly all the observatories where stellar distances are measured are located in the northern hemisphere. The Harvard astronomers are therefore concentrating much of their attention upon photographs of southern stars at the Harvard station at Arequipa, Peru.

New Method.

The new methods of measuring the distance of a star by a study of its spectrum are based upon discoveries by a number of astronomers. A remarkable contribution to the subject has been made by Dr. Megh Nad Saha, an East Indian, who is assistant professor of physics in the University of Calcutta.

Until recently the only available method for measuring star distances has been the parallax method, which consists of triangulation, using the diameter of the earth's orbit as a base line. In other words, observations of a star are made at intervals of about six months. During this period of six months the observer is carried by the motion of the earth to a point some 186 million miles from that of his first observation, and using this distance as a base line he can work out the distances of the nearer stars.

Almost all the stars, however, are so vastly remote from the earth that even with a base line of 186 million miles their distances cannot be triangulated.

It is for these more distant stars that the new methods are used. At the Mount Wilson observatory, W. S. Adams and his associates have succeeded in developing a procedure depending on the lines in the spectra of stars as photographed with large telescopes fitted out with powerful spectroscopes. The lines are due to the absorption of light from the star's surface by the clouds of iron, nickel, calcium and other elements that form its atmosphere. Dr. Bertil Lindblad has provided another method, based upon the examination of the so-called "cyanogen" bands in the spectra. These new methods have been carefully checked by the older ones.

The Next Problem.

Now that methods of measuring star distances from a study of spectra have been worked out, standardized and checked, the next problem is to apply these methods to those thousands of stars whose distances are still unknown. One of the fundamental tasks of astronomy is to determine how the stars are distributed through space, and this can never be known until the distances are measured.

It is this task of applying the new methods for which the Harvard collection of photographs of stellar spectra has been found to furnish excellent material. To give a single example, photographs made at Cambridge thirty-five years ago give the distance of Alpha Ursae Majoris, one of the "pointers" in the big dipper, as about seventy-two light years. In other words the light now coming in from that star began its journey about 1850, and the light photographed on the Harvard plates in 1887 started in 1816.

Wine Cellar Walled Up
Three Decades Ago Found

Boston.—A wine cellar, including Maryland rye, Kentucky bourbon and other good liquor, has been "unwalled" by laborers raising the old Studio building. Tremont and Broomfield streets, famed as the city's "inner temple of the fine arts."

It is believed that the carefully stored liquor was the property of George Snell, a noted architect and clubman of the city, who died three decades ago, failing to mention on his deathbed his precaution against drought. The cellar was walled up in the foundations.

FROGS AND SNAILS ON MENU

London Hotel Explains That Americans Have Acquired Taste for Them.

London.—Frogs and snails have just been put on the bill of fare at the Savoy hotel. This news is accompanied by the explanation that English and American officers who have served in France have acquired a taste for them and want to be able to get them here.

Those who have tried snails report that the snail part is tough, and the trimmings taste too much of garlic. Perhaps the Savoy snails will be tenderer and the garlic kept in check a little. At any rate it is related that Sir Hall Caine has gone in for the new items on the bill of fare at the Savoy.

The important commercial fact is that 250 frogs and 200 snails are now being brought by airplane from Paris to London each day. It seems a shame to hurry snails that way, but the daily order is going to be doubled.

"SHIRT-TAIL" CHARLEY

Here is "Shirt-Tail" Charley, one of the few remaining Seminole Indians now in Florida. Some years ago Charley committed a crime for which his chief condemned him for the rest of his life to wear nothing more than a plain shirt. Many times he has been tempted to don the gorgeously colored garments so typical of the Seminole, but the realization that his life would be forfeit for the discarding of his "cloak of crime" deterred him.

TRAPS BEARS AND CRATES 'EM

State Nimrod Not Content With Slaying Animals for Hides in Pennsylvania.

Warren, Pa.—Most of the Warren county hunters who go to the big woods after the bear, are satisfied in shooting Mr. Bruin and then dragging him home for their neighbors to see. But Chauncey Logue, the state trapper, who has been working in this locality, has a better solution to the bear-getting problem.

Logue, who has been in the trapping game for many years, places his traps and when the bear is caught places a collar around its neck and, armed with a heavy club, leads Mr. Bear to the nearest shipping point.

A short time ago, after capturing an extra large bear and bringing it in, he was asked by moving-picture men if he would take it out of the crate so as to enable them to take pictures. He complied and the pictures taken are now on exhibition in Pittsburgh.

HATES SCHOOL, KILLS SELF

"I Want to See Mother," Note Left for His Father and Stepmother by Detroit Boy Says.

Detroit, Mich.—Resenting and brooding over his father's peremptory order that he must continue to attend school, Arthur Coleman, fourteen years old, shot and killed himself in his home here. A bitter quarrel is said to have resulted from the father's order. In a note the boy left he bade his father and stepmother farewell and added: "I want to see mother."

Young Coleman joined in family prayers before retiring at night, and, according to his father, tossed about in bed until 4 o'clock in the morning. He then arose, obtained a rifle, lay back on the bed and shot himself through the abdomen.

Coleman was a pupil in Cass Tech High school and was noted among his fellow-pupils for his boxing ability.

Bill Ashes Redeemed.

Goshen, Ind.—Several days ago Roy Kinny, employed in a Goshen garage, received his week's pay in currency in an envelope. He took it home, left it on a table, where his children found it and threw it into a stove. The ashes were taken to the City National bank here and forwarded to the Treasury department in Washington, where they were subjected to a chemical analysis. As a result Kinny received $40 from the United States government the other day.

POULTRY, BUTTER AND EGG MARKETS

More favorable weather and better road conditions are bringing more eggs to market, although receipts are still below what is known as flush production.

Costs of eggs in producing sections have been higher, proportionately, than selling values in consuming centers, indicating that consumers have definite ideas of values at which they are willing to use eggs freely.

There is a decrease in the marketing of live poultry, with an easy tendency in the market for dressed poultry.

Production of butter is showing an increase, with definitely lower values the past few days.

MOST ATTRACTIVE OFFERINGS IN LOCAL STORES

From time to time THE NEWS has called attention to the excellent opportunities offered intending purchasers in getting their goods from Paris stores. We have told of the splendid lines carried by the local houses, and that there was no reason in the world why home people should not trade at home, all things being equal, when prices were reasonable.

We are now calling attention of the buying public to the fact that the local stores are stocked for the spring and summer trade as they never were before. The spring trade has made a good start here. This is due to two things, the first being that the stock of goods carried by the Paris merchants were never better than to-day, and the second, because the farmer's financial outlook is decidedly improved, thanks to the co-operative tobacco markets and many other reasons. The prices of his grain and stock are advancing, and if there is a good crop this year in 1922 he will be back on the soundest basis that he has attained since the war period.

THE NEWS is not indulging in idle flattery—it never does that—when it declares that the offerings in the local stores are the most attractive of any shown in recent years, and the increasing number of persons trading in Paris shows that the buyers have already discovered that fact.

"Trade At Home," is the slogan adopted by the Paris Commercial Club. We are firm believers in that. But at the same time we admonish the Paris merchants to keep their stocks up to the standard, and make their prices such that trade will be attracted here to offset that which high prices and indifferent treatment and low stocks will invariably drive to other markets.

Cape Cod.

Francis Drake was the first Englishman to set foot in New England, and he landed on Cape Cod. French, Dutch, Spanish, English—all had names for the cape, but in 1602 Gosnold, examining the coast of New England with a view to colonizing, gave it the predestined name—Cape Cod. An effort was subsequently made to have it called Cape James, but without success.

Washington is our seat of government, and Congress has been sitting on it for so long that it is almost worn out.

CINCINNATI'S GREATEST STORE. FOUNDED 1877.

First to establish the $10.90 price—"Usco"

THE makers of U. S. Tires made this announcement last November—

"Hereafter the price of the 30x3 1/2 'Usco' is $10.90."

The lowest price ever quoted on a tire of quality reputation and standard performance.

And now, with the opening of Spring, there seem to be quite a number of "New and Special tires" coming into the market in the $10.90 price range.

Perhaps you are wondering just what there can be either "new" or "special" about these tires.

It can't be the $10.90 price—"Usco" established that five months ago.

Nor quality reputation and standard performance—for it takes more than one full season for any new tire to demonstrate where it stands in quality and value.

With so many tires rushing into this $10.90 price field (now that the season promises business from the American car-owner), it is worth remembering that "Usco" showed its good faith by announcing this price last fall.

The same intent to serve that has made "Usco" a standard value for years.

The "Usco" Tire was never better than it is today—with its established quality, its time-tested performance, and its price closely figured in tune with the times.

Eugene Walters' "FINE FEATHERS" With An All Star Cast

SHE WAS A DISCONTENTED WIFE and she longed for luxury at the expense of her husband's good name and honor. The price they paid, however, was a high one—the price that is usually paid when a man commits a crime for the sake of an extravagant wife and is then engulfed in the sea of evil consequence. For breathless, thrilling drama it is unsurpassed with a punch at the finish that is a knockout. Don't miss it.

MAY McAVOY The Wonder Girl, in.... "MORALS"

THE COLOR AND SPLENDOR OF THE EAST—Out of the seclusion and security of a Turkish harem—Out of the warmth and languor of the East—to be dropped suddenly—into the chill of a London fog—into the bachelor household of a man she had never seen. And so into his startled, lonely heart. And there to dwell like a strange, exotic flower until a friend's perfidy, another woman's jealous plotting, and a great danger brought—almost too late—the realization of love triumphant.

Here is big drama—tense swift-moving scenes—gorgeous settings—the radiance and emotional witchery of May McAvoy—a brilliant cast—and one of the great stories of all time—one that has thrilled millions as novel and play. All the color and splendor of the Orient from the background for this photo-play masterpiece.

"The Journey's End" With Wyndham Standing, Mabel Ballin and George Bancroft

Can you imagine any stranger contrast than between the life she had lived and that which she was now to know? First, linked to a laborer—rough, rugged, uncouth—struggling, morning, noon and night to make both ends meet. Then luxury—her every wish anticipated; her every desire fulfilled by the man she loved best in the world. Happy was her heart as she lay in the steamer-chair musing on the days which were past and those which were to come. Little did she know that Fate was building up to the strangest climax ever unfolded either in real life or upon the silver screen. You're going to enjoy every moment of this fascinating picture—a picture as beautiful as it is dramatic, as unusual as it is entertaining.

PLUMMER—VAUGHN

—The home of the officiating minister, Rev. W. E. Ellis, pastor of the Christian church was the scene of a pretty wedding Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, when Mrs. Lucy Day Plummer, of Paris, and Mr. J. Robert Vaughn, of Winchester, were united in marriage. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Haley and Mrs. Charles Welty, the latter a sister of the bride.

The bride was very handsome and attractive in her wedding gown, a traveling suit of dark blue, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Following the ceremony and receiving congratulations and best wishes from a number of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn left for a visit to the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. C. H. Hall, in Normal, Ill. On their return they will reside on a farm near Clintonville, which has been leased for the year by Mr. Vaughn.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Day, and a sister of Mrs. Charles Welty, of Paris. She was the widow of Clarence Plummer, well-known railroad man, who was killed in a mine accident while agent of the Louisville & Nashville, at Chavies, Ky., about three years ago. She has two charming children. Mr. Vaughn owns a fine farm near Winchester, which he is leaving for the privilege of being a Bourbon county farmer and the husband of a fine Bourbon county woman.

WILD ONIONS CAUSING TROUBLE FOR DAIRYMEN

Wild onions again are causing many Kentucky dairymen trouble in the form of tainted milk, according to inquiries being received at the College of Agriculture. The only known way to handle the problem is to take cows out of the pastures infested with the weed several hours before milking time, J. J. Hooper, head of the college dairy department says.

"We have found that much of the trouble can be eliminated by turning the cows into the infested pastures immediately after they have been milked and then taking them out in three or four hours and placing them in a barn lot or clean pasture until they are milked. It is well also to pour the milk over a cooler as this helps to get rid of some of the onion odor and flavor."

Senator Watson and Congressman Blanton have been furnishing some interesting reading matter to the Congressional Record even if they have been doing nothing else.
